

North Carolina Lifestyle Coach Network Updates

Greetings Lifestyle Coaches!!!

Can you believe it is almost Christmas... AND 2016 is right around the corner?!?!

I wanted to touch base with you all and provide a few updates since we will not have the Lifestyle Coach Network webinar this month. Please see below for updates J

1. SAVE THE DATE - Our next NC Lifestyle Coach Network webinar will be held on Thursday, January 28, 2016 from 10:00am – 11:00am. We will have guest presenter from the CDC to share lessons learned and we will also provide tips/suggestions for engaging priority populations!
2. January 28, 2016 | 1:00-2:00pm ET - The DTTAC Dialogues webinar series features stories about the implementation of the National DPP in a variety of settings, opportunities for shared learning about what is working, and insights on solving common challenges. Registration is FREE, but seats are limited. Click here to register!
3. Please keep me and your ODHDSP Regional Health Systems Coordinator (if applicable) in the loop about any staff changes or programmatic bumps you encounter. Also, remember to update your DPRP information when staff changes occur by sending an email to the CDC, dprpAsk@cdc.gov, include your organization's name and DPRP code in the subject line.
4. Please use the attached version of the frequently asked questions about the new AMA National Diabetes Prevention Program (National DPP) CPT code Diabetes Prevention Program CPT code that becomes effective January 1, 2016.
5. The North Carolina Diabetes Prevention Program database is still in the process of completion. It should be live any day now. We will update you all as soon as we received new information.
6. As a Reminder: DTTAC is offering a Lifestyle Coach Facilitation Refresher this TOMORROW - Wednesday December 16th 1:00-2:30pm Are you about to start your first lifestyle change program? Has it been awhile since your last training? Could you use a boost in facilitation skills? Introductory Price: $20 Click here to register!

I believe that is all for now. If you have any questions, contact me and I will make every effort to respond to you promptly.
